How much do we really know about the food we buy at our local supermarkets?

Award-winning filmmaker Robert Kenner exposes the highly mechanized hidden underbelly of the nation's food industry. With the consent of our government's regulatory agencies, USDA and FDA, our nation's food supply is now controlled by a handful of corporations that often put profit ahead of consumer health, the livelihood of the American farmer, the safety of workers and our own environment. We have bigger-breasted chickens, the perfect pork chop, herbicide-resistant soybean seeds, even tomatoes that won't go bad. But we also have new strains of E. coli, widespread obesity and epidemic diabetes.
