WE SHALL REMAIN: America Through Native Eyes Episode 5: Wounded Knee (80 minutes)

Wounded Knee, episode five, of this series, tells the recent gripping story of the 1973 siege of Wounded Knee. It examines the broad political and economic forces that led to the emergence of the American Indian Movement (AIM) in the 1960s. For 71 days, activists engaged in a standoff with the U.S. Government, bringing the nation's attention to the desperate conditions people were living under on Indian reservations. This siege united Indigenous people across tribes, creating a pan-Indian identity and a new path into the future.
