PLUNDER: THE CRIMES BEHIND THE FINANCIAL CRISIS

A Talk With Danny Schechter

The current financial crisis is page-one news, imposing an economic squeeze in the lives of hundreds of millions worldwide. The headlines chronicle a major downturn globally, but few articles examine the back story and explain how it happened, who benefited and who lost.

Danny Schechter is the founder and executive editor of Media Channel and founder and Vice President/Executive Producer of GlobalVision, Inc., an award-winning media company formed in 1986.

A broadcast and print journalist and internationally recognized speaker and writer on media issues, Schechter has been honored with numerous awards, including the Emmy and George Polk Awards.

He was the news director and principal newscaster for WBCN-FM, an on-air reporter for WBGH, and a news program producer and investigative reporter at CNN and ABC.

He is the author of several books, the most recent being Plunder. In that book and his soon-to-be released film of the same name, he follows up from where he left off in 2007, with his film "In Debt We Trust," detailing how this systemic crisis unfolded and who should be held accountable.
